Printed for and Sold by I. Walsh, Servant to her Majesty at y^e Harp and Hoboy in Catherine Street near Somerset House in the Strand, and at y^e Golden Viol in S^t. Pauls Church yard, and at his Shop in Freeman's yard near y^e Royal Exchange in Cornhill.

Er ist ein typisches Beispiel für die in jener Zeit übliche Praxis der instrumentengerechten Bearbeitung bekannter Violinwerke für ein anderes Melodieinstrument. Es handelt sich dabei – neben der bereits mehrfach veröffentlichten „La Follia“ – um folgende fünf Sonaten aus Corellis op. 5 in einer Übertragung für Altblockflöte und Basso continuo:

Sonata I	op. 5	Nr. 9	Originaltonart A-Dur
Sonata II	op. 5	Nr. 10	Originaltonart F-Dur
Sonata III	op. 5	Nr. 7	Originaltonart d-Moll
Sonata IV	op. 5	Nr. 8	Originaltonart e-Moll
Sonata V	op. 5	Nr. 11	Originaltonart E-Dur.

Der Druck von Walsh (British Library, London) besteht aus zwei Stimmenheften mit der Bezeichnung Fluto primo und Fluto basso (!), der bezifferten Generalbassstimme. Um die Violinpassagen dem Tonumfang der Altblockflöte anzupassen und aus Gründen der leichteren Spielbarkeit haben die Bearbeiter zahlreiche Stimmknicke vorgenommen. Die sind zum Teil – von der heutigen Spielpraxis aus gesehen – gar nicht mehr unbedingt notwendig und wurden deshalb in der vorliegenden Ausgabe wieder an die Originalfassung angeglichen. Außerdem wurden aus der Violinfassung einige zusätzliche Artikulationsbögen übertragen. Die Quellen enthalten keinerlei tr oder sonstige Verzierungszeichen. Alle diesbezüglichen Ergänzungen in unserer Ausgabe sind unverbindliche Vorschläge des Herausgebers. Über alle wesentlichen Abweichungen von den einzelnen Quellen gibt der Editionsbericht Aufschluss.

The 18th century publication is a typical example of the arrangement of violin music for other instruments, which was customary at that time. In addition to “La Follia”, which had already been published a number of times, it contained the following five sonatas from Corelli’s opus 5 as an arrangement for treble recorder and basso continuo:

Sonata I	op. 5	No. 9	original key A major
Sonata II	op. 5	No. 10	original key F major
Sonata III	op. 5	No. 7	original key D minor
Sonata IV	op. 5	No. 8	original key E minor
Sonata V	op. 5	No. 11	original key E major.

Walsh’s edition (British Library, London) consists of two partbooks marked Fluto primo and Fluto basso (sic), the latter being the basso continuo part. The original arranger transposed the violin part at many locations to bring it within the compass of the treble recorder and to facilitate its execution on that instrument. Recorder players of today will find that quite a number of those transpositions are not absolutely essential – in such cases I have therefore restored the original writing of the violin part. In addition I have departed from the Walsh version by restoring to the recorder part some of the violin’s articulation marks. The sources are entirely without symbols for trills or other ornaments. All the trill and ornament symbols which I have added to the present edition should therefore be looked upon simply as suggestions. Wherever the present edition differs substantially from the individual sources this has been indicated in the revisional notes.

The violin version and Walsh consistently have  and  respectively. In this edition several articulations have been suggested for the sake of variety.
